AIIC standards, ethics and interpreting markets: AIIC VEGA comes to Prague, Czech Republic

The International Association of Conference Interpreters' VEGA Network, in collaboration with the Institute of Translation Studies, Charles University, is pleased to announce an outreach session for interpreting students and colleagues who have recently entered the freelance or institutional conference markets.

Join us on Friday, November 2, 2018 from 10 am to 12 noon!

AIIC interpreters Monika Kokoszycka (AIIC VEGA, London) and Tomáš Opočenský (AIIC, Prague) will give you some practical information and take you through topics such as best practices and professional standards for conference interpreters, AIIC and AIIC VEGA: who we are and what we do, and interpreting markets for Czech conference interpreters abroad.

When:       Friday 2 November 2018
              10 am - 12 noon

Where:      Ústav translatologie / Institute of Translation Studies, FFUK
              Praha 1, Hybernská 3, room 206

Entry:       free

AIIC VEGA is a worldwide network of AIIC conference interpreters, offering guidance and advice to interpreting students and new interpreters entering the profession.
